License Revoked at Raggs Rack Room for Operating a “Disorderly House”
Raggs Rack Room will no longer be able to Sell Alcohol

Eureka - Agents of the California Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) have posted a Notice of Revocation at Raggs Rack Room in Eureka, California. Raggs Rack Room is losing its license because the bar had been operating a “Disorderly House” constituting a drain on law enforcement services. The premises has been the focus of numerous calls for police services from the Eureka Police Department for fights, assaults, public drunkenness and other public nuisance issues.

ABC worked closely with officers of the Eureka Police Department during the investigation which culminated with the arrest of several persons at the premises.

Ultimately ABC filed an accusation against Raggs Rack Room for multiple ABC violations including sales to an obviously intoxicated person, allowing a minor to remain in the premises, and operating a “Disorderly House.”

A hearing was held to present facts and evidence in the case and an Administrative Law Judge ordered the license to be revoked.

ABC is a Department of the Business, Transportation and Housing Agency.
